Newly planted trees need regular irrigation to rapidly grow the roots necessary for proper establishment. For trees planted in spring or summer, water two to three times per week. After the first few months, provide weekly irrigation until plants are fully established. Irrigations should be 2 to 3 gallons of water per inch trunk diameter. For example, a 2-inch tree should be watered 4 to 6 gallons each irrigation. Handwatering may be the only way you can follow this schedule and still comply with water restrictions.

Establish a structural pruning program early on to maintain one dominant trunk. Trees with one main trunk are stronger than trees with two or more trunks (co-dominant stems). Reducing the length of competing stems early in the tree's life ensures that one trunk will dominate the others and become the main trunk, giving the tree strength and stability. This type of pruning is best performed on a regular basis for the first fifteen or twenty years after a tree is planted.

August Facts... Did You Know?

In the original Roman calendar the month of August was called Sextilis. This was because it was the sixth month of the year. Later, after January and February were added to the calendar, it became the eighth month of the year. At the time the month had 29 days. When Julius Caesar created the Julian calendar in 45 BC, two days were added giving the month 31 days. The month was later renamed Augustus in honor of the first emperor of Rome, Caesar Augustus.

It's a Beautiful Thing

Just when the masks come off, a new virus is amongst us. Although if you're vaccinated the likelihood of this being as bad as Covid-19 should be reduced. We want everyone to stay healthy, so please continue to do your part by wearing a mask and practicing social distancing.

On a better note, Summer is here, and we hope everyone has been having some fun in the sun! Possibly a nice walk in the evening, ice cream sundaes and sweet summer rain... Oh come on it's not that hot outside! This is a time to enjoy the weather, love your family, respect your neighborhood and smile at a stranger and your neighbor.

The Board of Trustees has a vacant seat. If you are motivated and want to make a difference in your community, please forward a letter of intent and a resume to office@bayshoregardens.org or feel free to stop in the district office and introduce yourself.
