In Memoriam: Randy Hilton

Bayshore Gardens Park & Recreation District mourns the passing of Randy Hilton after a long battle with cancer. Randy ran the maintenance department for many years. His skills, talents and smiles will be missed by the community, his family and friends.

Randy and his wife Linda - Halloween 2021

It's a Beautiful Thing

Hello, this is the time of year for joy, forgiveness, understanding and good cheer.

Good news – If you only gain thirteen pounds between Halloween and Thanksgiving you can relax and enjoy because you still have ten more to go before New Year's!!

By now, I hope you know what you are buying your loved ones. Make sure you don't wait until the last minute to get started on all your gift wrapping. Plus, it is time to get to baking all those specialty cookies, cakes, and pies that you make once a year. If the first batch needs testing...You can always call me!

On a much sadder note, our long-time maintenance employee Randy Hilton passed away. He will be missed by many for he was a wonderful person and a great soul!

All our projects are ongoing and on track. All other problems of dubious importance I am leaving to the naysayers so they can join the Scrooges and work it out. Please don't forget to check your Banner for all the holiday activities we have planned for you and if you can volunteer, please call Dan, we can always use extra helping hands.

Until next year I hope you and your family have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!!

Remember please watch out for your neighbors as we are all in this together! If you See Something, Say Something!! For emergencies call Manatee County Sheriff Office at 941-747-3011 Ext: 2260 or call Dan Rawlinson who is available anytime!

It's a Beautiful Thing – Dan Rawlinson 941-755-9388

Nominating committee – A committee was formed to establish a list for next year's Officers. Joyce Fisher, Marlene Durgin, and Marie Young were selected and will meet at our December Luncheon to discuss nominees.

Gwen thanked Matilda Renovalez for calling/reminding the members of this meeting.

Refreshments –Gwen brought refreshments that were enjoyed after the presentation.

New Business:

Presentation - Mike Sircy, Master Gardener volunteer gave a presentation on Coyotes.

Do coyote mate with dogs. No. Coyotes (Canis Latrans) are all over Florida. They relocate due to habitat loss. Coyotes can swim to islands. They are less than 40 pounds, roam in about a 15-mile radius, can have six pups a year and both parents care for the young.

Can you shoot them? It is illegal to discharge firearms in subdivisions. If poison is used, other animals could be killed. Coyotes eat anything - opossum, coons, cats, rats, birds. They are territorial and will attack domestic animals, cattle. From 1970 – 2020 there have been nine coyote attacks on humans with no fatality. But in five years there had been 21 fatalities by dog bites (between 2013-2018).

Coyotes are here to stay. If some are removed or killed there will be others to replace them. They are adaptable and intelligent.

Don't feed the coyotes. It's illegal. Remove pet food and contain all trash and compost. Protect pets especially in evening, early morning and at night. They can jump a six-foot fence. They breed in the winter and the partners stay together. If you encounter a coyote, wave your arms, pick up your small pet, make sounds (hazing and audible alarms seem to work).

If you see a coyote, contact FWC NE region office at 352-732-1225, or Wildlife Alert Hotline at 888-404-3922, or Nuisance Wildlife Trapper MyFwc.com/Trappers/. Visit MyFWC.com/coyotes

We thanked Mike Sircy for a very informative presentation.

Announcements:

Plant Clinic: Master Gardener Volunteer Mobile Plant Clinic is scheduled for December 1st, 9am-noon at St. George's Episcopal Church (912 63rd Ave. W). Take your questions, plant examples and bugs (in a sealed bag/container).

Gwen announced that Manatee County FEMA yard waste cleanup from Hurricane Ian 'second and last sweep' will begin November 9th. They expect to complete the contract in a few weeks.

Next meeting is a Luncheon on Monday, December 12th (1:00 PM). We will meet at Anna Maria Oyster Bar Landside (6906 14th St W, Bradenton, FL 34207).

We adjourned at about 2:30 PM and ate.

Bayshore Gardens is on its way to having a viable CERT organization, but we need you. We have two new CERT members and two more to receive their certification in January. We currently are a part of Trailer Estates CERT, and are recognized by Manatee County to continue until we have enough members here in Bayshore Gardens. We will need some of our CERT members to be HAM operators as that is our communication in a disaster should we lose cell or 911 system. CERT will offer classes for Ham licensing test preparation in February. In an emergency CERT may authorize a licensed HAM radio operator to broadcast with a CERT member present. If you are interested, let us know and we will get you in the February class even if you are not a CERT member. If you have a HAM license CERT would like to have you join.

FEMA requires that all CERT members be certified to respond to a disaster. At the completion of your CERT Basic Training class you are issued a CERT badge that identifies you to other First Responders. In addition you will receive a CERT backpack and other safety equipment. CERT Basic Training classes will be held in Trailer Estates and the schedule is January 2023 with four classes during the week in the evening and two Saturday classes. The times for weekday classes are from 6:00 to 9:30 PM and Saturday from 9:30 AM to midafternoon, the dates are 1/18, 1/19, 1/21, 1/25, 1/26, and 1/28 of 2023. Email your interest to originaltr@cs.com to receive an application via email. CERT is a part of FEMA/Homeland Security. If you wish more information about CERT, google FEMA/CERT. The classes are free and once completed, your certification/identification is accepted nationwide.

Visit our website for more information about our team and the Manatee Co website for an overview of the County CERT program.

As we grow, more benefits will be available to Bayshore Gardens residents, such as a Stop the Bleed Class, Active Shooter, Search and Rescue and more.

CERT WISHES ALL A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

How can you cope with market volatility?

Feb. 24, 2022

These are unsettling times for investors. Even before the geopolitical crisis involving Russia and Ukraine, the financial markets were facing headwinds due to higher inflation, the anticipation of rising interest rates and the continuing effects of the pandemic. As an individual investor, should you take some type of action?

It's helpful to put today's headlines in perspective. While the Federal Reserve probably will raise interest rates, they are doing so from a point where these rates were at or near historic lows, so the new, higher rates may not drastically deter businesses from borrowing to expand their operations. Also, higher interest rates can be good for savers, who can earn more on their savings. As for inflation, many economists expect it to cool down in the second half of 2022 as supply chain bottlenecks start to clear. And the pandemic's effects, both on our health and on our daily lives, may be fading, though, of course, we all should be cautious when it comes to making predictions about COVID-19.

The Ukraine situation is one more unpredictable event – and one thing that financial markets dislike is uncertainty. Russia is one of the world's largest oil producers, so a conflict that could affect oil prices can have a ripple effect on many market sectors. Until the state of affairs in Ukraine calms down, market volatility may continue.

Even in this context of uncertainty, though, investors shouldn't lose sight of other factors that can affect the investment climate. The U.S. economy has been growing at a fast clip, and corporate earnings – usually a key driver of stock prices – have also been strong.

In any case, instead of reacting to external events – negative or positive – you'll help yourself by pursuing an investment strategy based on your goals and risk tolerance. Sticking to that strategy will be easier if you follow these steps:

- Take a break from checking your statements. When the market goes through a rough patch, you may find yourself constantly check on how your portfolio is doing. But this can cause stress and lead you to make unwise decisions. If you don't need this money right now, take a break from looking at your investment statements.
- Give yourself time to make investment moves. See if you can wait a certain amount of time – a day, a night or a weekend – before making a significant investment move. This delay can give you time for strong emotions to cool and help you consider whether your decision is in your best interest.
- Take steps to protect your long-term investments. If you don't really need the money right away, you shouldn't have to worry excessively over the short-term movements of the financial markets. To avoid tapping into your long-term investments, try to build an emergency fund containing several months' worth of living expenses, with the money kept in a low-risk, easily accessible account.
- Get some help. When you're facing the ups and downs in the markets, you can benefit from some assistance. A financial advisor can discuss your concerns and illustrate some scenarios that can result if you make certain moves – thereby helping you make better informed decisions.

We're living in challenging days. But instead of agonizing over things you can't control, concentrate on those that you can – such as making investment choices appropriate for your needs and capable of helping you meet your goals.
